Continuing the tradition of creating the next level of breathtaking pin-up girls in the modern world, internationally acclaimed photographer and pin-up artist Celeste Giuliano presents her classic style of pin-ups in stunning 3-D for the first time ever. The pin-up girl has been a staple of classic American culture since the 1920s. Featured on advertisements and novelty items, their coy smiles and flirtatious ways captivated millions while selling everything from colas to cars. During the 1950s, a whole new dimension of tease gained popularity once these timeless beauties were presented in 3-D. This book features all new images of the classic girl next door that tease both on and off the pages in breathtaking realism.

Giuliano plops her models in playful situations: twirling a lasso, popping corn in a pan, getting a dress stuck in elevator doors you know, the kind of dirty postcards your grandfather used to collect before he met Grandma ... and even after, when she wasn't paying attention. Sometimes these images come accompanied with a winking phrase; for example, a blonde trying her hand at beekeeping is captioned, This honey's all the buzz. If not for the occasional tattoo peeking from a sleeve, these pages could pass for pinups to rival Betty Grable in many a soldier's barracks. The 3-D isn't necessary to sell Giuliano's brand of sizzle, but considering how layered it is and, therefore, actually effective I'm glad it's there. (And yes, the necessary specs are included.) --Rod Lott, bookgasm.com About the Author Celeste Giuliano is an internationally acclaimed photographer whose attention to detail, technique and authenticity have given her a worldwide audience that embraces her as a modern day pioneer in pin-up photography.
