Doing the puzzles at that rate, one probably wouldn't notice that the answers are repetitive and worse the clues are identical. Doing these puzzles became more of speed challenge than a mental exercise. Also, has anyone ever seen EMU spelled EMEU? It appears at least four times in this collection. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great puzzles - book says easy to medium skills By Anne S. Olsen Great puzzles - book says easy to medium skills. I would say medium to low level difficult. Certainly not easy. Habit forming, challenging. I did not order sooner due to the "easy" evaluation. Not so! Good, good book with varied challenges. 4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. SUPER-DUPER By D. Costa Maura Jacobson has a great sense of humor and is very down to earth. While it is not written for 'dummies' it is not so difficult that you cannot enjoy it. By the time you get through the 200 crosswords, you can do it all over again because when you go back to the beginning it's as if you never saw it before. While doing them you'll find that every once in while you have to chuckle at her cleverness. Her puzzles are super duper.

The first omnibus in the New York Magazine series offers: 200 contemporary Sunday-size puzzles Gentle wit mixed with clever puns and a relatively easy style Enjoyable, popular crossword puzzles as only Maura Jacobson can create [Difficulty: Easy to Medium Style: Middle of the Road]

From the Inside Flap In the fifth volume of crosswords from "New York magazine, Maura Jacobson serves up 50 clever and fun puzzles. Mingling gentle wit with groan-out-loud puns, these mini-works-of-art have entertained New Yorkers for over 20 years. Will Shortz, the crossword editor of "The New York Times, calls Ms. Jacobson and her puzzles "a national treasure." About the Author Maura Jacobson has created a weekly crossword for New York magazine for more than 25 years. She is the only person to have contributed a puzzle to every American Crossword Puzzle Tournament since its inception in 1978.
