By John Foster Junior Life lessons, motivating and entertaining read, easily digestible, great references and laugh out loud funny anecdotes, what's not to like?. Also bought this on because it was cheaper than buying it from a bookstore hence the current dilemma with stores going out of business in these oh so modern times. I've read all of his books, got all of the Fozzy albums and not because I'm a WWE superfan or anything, but because he comes across as relatable and funny in printed form (especially rockers that grew up in the 80's) and after I heard "With the Fire" I've been a Fozzy fan ever since. Can also relate to his Beatle fandom because I lived in Hana, Maui for 2 years and every so often would go to Nahiku hoping to bump into George Harrison, but alas never did. Props to Chris and Eddie Trunk for promoting Rock Music in general because just when it felt like I was the last dude standing, still keeping up to date with my favorite bands, still buying albums and still going to live gigs when it seemed like all the other dudes walked away and seemingly grew out of it. Chris and Eddie are still waving the flag of Rock and making us Rockers feel somewhat normal. A Fozzy tour diary would also be appreciated some day down the road. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Jericho never disappoints By kiss army general I'm a big Jericho fan especially of his books. They are all great and for different reasons. This book gives a lot of great advice but does it with hilarious stories that back up the principles. Great read and a unique way of delivering some self help advice. Three-time New York Times bestselling author and six-time WWE champion Chris Jericho shares 20 of his most valuable lessons for achieving your goals and living the life you want, jam-packed with fantastic stories and the classic off-the-wall, laugh-out-loud Jericho references he's famous for, with a foreword by Paul Stanley. Chris Jericho has known what he wanted out of life since he was a teenager: to be a pro wrestler and to be in a rock 'n' roll band. Most of his high school friends felt that he lacked the tools necessary to get into either, but Chris believed in himself. With the wise words of Master Yoda echoing through his head ("Do or do not. There is no try."), he made it happen. As a result, Chris has spent a lifetime doing instead of merely trying, managing to achieve his dreams while learning dozens of invaluable lessons along the way. No Is a Four-Letter Word distills more than two decades of showbiz wisdom and advice into twenty easy-to-carry chapters. From developing a strong work ethic thanks to WWE chairman Vince McMahon, remembering to always look like a star from Gene Simmons of KISS, learning to let it go when the America's Funniest Home Videos hosting gig goes to his rival, adopting a sense of perpetual reinvention from the late David Bowie, making sure to sell himself like his NHL-legend father Ted Irvine taught him, or going the extra mile to meet Keith Richards (with an assist from Jimmy Fallon), Chris has learned countless lessons during his decades-long career. Now, in the hopes that those same principles might help and inspire his legions of fans, Chris has decided to share them while recounting the fantastic and hilarious stories that led to the birth of these rules. The result is a fun, entertaining, practical, and inspiring book from the man with many scarves but only one drive: to be the best. After reading No Is a Four-Letter Word, you'll discover that you might have what it takes to succeed as well...you just need to get out there and do it. That's what Jericho would do.

"Jericho's honesty, sense of humor and attention to detail make No Is A Four Letter Word another rousing success in the 'Books of Jericho.'" Uproxx "Great stories and inspirational talk about trying to live your life and get what you want out of it."
