Oliver Anderson : The Football Review 2007 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Football Review 2007:

THE FOOTBALL REVIEW includes: In-depth analysis and essays on all 20 Premier League teams, with open and frank evaluations of at least 20 players per team. Pioneering team and player ratings which account for position,situation and opponent to reveal true contributions to success. Rankings for all players in terms of their attacking, defensive and overall contributions to their teams during the 2006/07 season. Innovative statistics you won't find in any other book, such as Attacking and Defensive efficiency, estimated points, corner %, Attacking, defensive and total goal-values for players, and many more. Introducing the SIM profiler forecasting model giving exclusive predictions for over 400 players for the 2007/08 season. Groundbreaking research into team,player, and manager trends as well as squad rotation, summer signings, fixture strength, and much, much, more... Oliver Anderson founded Sports Statistical Reviews in February 2007 and is a statistician by profession,and also a qualified football coach. He
